Donations for clock repairs

Over $260 was donated during the past week by city residents and businesses to the fund established to restore the City Hall building. The first phase of the project is to repair the clock in the tower of the structure.

"The committee is very pleased with the support the community has given us so far," said David Baum, NEWS managing editor. "The committee is meeting again Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. and anyone interested in attending is welcome to help us further our plans."

Baum reported the fund now has received $365 in donations, with more being pledged by area residents. Those who wish to donate to the fund are asked to make a check or money order out to: The Restoration Committee Clock Fund, c-o The Carbondale NEWS, 41 North Church Street, Carbondale, Pa., 18407.

The committee has asked the city administration and council to include $500, or any amount that can be agreed on, in the 1982 city budget to held in funding the repairs.
